

A day: phone-free transit parking food review and withdraw permissions

Transit, parking, retail, food and public service share an explainable AI layer; biometric access is optional in the concept and human alternatives remain.

