1. Three-Level Scope Framework

■ Boundaries are provisional (geometry_role=provisional_constraint, official_boundary=false). For concept generation and temporary self-check only.
All area, FAR, and related metrics must be recalculated when official polygons are published. [assumption:ASM-001]

3. Key Area Detailed Design

① Zhongzhi Park AI Innovation Acceleration Zone

~192.1 ha | KEY-001

Positioning:

Positioning: AI full-stack innovation & governance voice; basic research, incubation, capital services.

Structure:

Structure: "Innovation Corridor + Acceleration Workshop". East-west corridor links R&D blocks, shared platforms, display nodes; workshops cluster incubation space and pilot carriers.
Core node: "Large Model Validation Workshop".

AI:

AI Scenarios: AI research assistant / Large model validation / Compute sharing / Open-source showcase

Risk:

Risk: Significant existing-stock renewal; assess property rights and relocation timeline; phased implementation.

② Beijing AI Origin Community

~104.3 ha | KEY-002

Positioning:

Positioning: World-class AI innovation ecosystem & talent anchor, adjacent to university clusters.

Structure:

Structure: "Origin Plaza + Developer Street". Plaza as core public space; developer street runs north-south with pedestrian-priority mixed-use for commerce, exchange, and display.

AI:

AI Scenarios: AI+education / AI+academic search / Developer exchange / AI+healthcare navigation

Risk:

Risk: Sensitive university-community interface; requires public participation and mixed-use management.

③ Dazhongsi AI Industry Cluster

~72.0 ha | KEY-003

Positioning:

Positioning: Smart-native new business formats & commercial innovation pilot, leveraging Dazhongsi Station.

Structure:

Structure: "Industry Living Room + Test-Run Block" in parallel. Living room for office, display, business; test-run block for robot delivery, autonomous shuttle, smart retail scenarios.

AI:

AI Scenarios: AI retail / Robot low-speed delivery corridor / Urban agent governance sandbox

Risk:

Risk: Frequent commercial turnover; test-run block needs clear operating hours and safety boundaries.

■ All three key area polygons are provisional; block-level conclusions are directional only. [assumption:ASM-002]
